Join the San Diego Tracking Team for what is sure to be an entertaining, inspiring, and informative evening with this fascinating guest speaker from afar.

Adriaan Lowe comes to us from South Africa where he has spent the past 18 years working in the bush as a Nature Conservation professional. From a research and wilderness trails ranger in the Kruger National Park to the general manager of a private game ranch, he now runs his own business focusing on the training and evaluation of guides and trackers.

Mr. Louw also uses tracking as a metaphor to facilitate leadership development in individuals and teams. While in the U.S., Mr. Louw will also be leading trailing workshops, conducting a trailing evaluation, and speaking at the International Society of Professional Trackers conference on "Systematic Trailing to Intuitive Trailing: A Paradigm Shift."
